Since the Millennium, one night in the dull, dark month of February has been immeasurably brightened for wine-lovers by the creation of a special day to celebrate cherished bottles of wine, champagne and spirits.

Created in 2000 by Wall Street Journal "Tastings" columnists Dorothy J Gaiter and John Brecher, "Open that Bottle Night" is an annual occasion that aims to motivate people to not let that special bottle languish in your cellar too long and get tainted.

Chef Roselo will prepare a meal to be celebrated along with your special wine, Filet Mignon and Shrimp entrée, with an appetizer, soup, salad, and special dessert.

Age: 21 and over Fee: $50 (Price includes tax and gratuity.) Location: Villa Olivia, 1401 W. Lake St.
